

FINANCIAL AID

Quinnipiac seeks to assist each of its students to receive the maximum federal, state and institutional financial aid for which they are eligible. Institutional financial aid is available to full-time undergraduate students demonstrating eligibility according to Quinnipiac funding policies. Aid is provided as a “package,” which may include grants, scholarships, campus employment (Work Study) and loans. It is the goal of Quinnipiac to coordinate aid eligibility to make a Quinnipiac education as affordable as possible.

Quinnipiac’s financial aid policy is built on the principle of supplementing student and family contributions toward the cost of attending college. This principle is rooted in the belief that primary responsibility for meeting college costs rests with the student and the family. Financial aid eligibility, therefore, is measured between the cost of attending Quinnipiac and the reasonable support expected from student earnings and savings and from family income, assets and resources. To help Quinnipiac allocate its funds to assist as many students as possible, financial aid applicants are requested to explore all sources of external support for which they might qualify.

Students should apply for financial aid by filing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) by March 1 each year. All currently attending students who wish to apply for or renew their aid must file the FAFSA for renewal prior to April 1. Detailed information and links to both forms can be found on Quinnipiac’s Tuition and Financial Aid webpage (<http://www.quinnipiac.edu/finaid/>). All financial aid applicants are required to meet Quinnipiac’s standards for Satisfactory Academic Progress for financial aid recipients and applicants. The policy is published in the Course Catalog (<http://catalog.qu.edu/university-policies/academic-good-standing-policy-undergraduate-students/>) and is available online (<https://www.qu.edu/paying-for-college/undergraduate/apply-for-financial-aid/eligibility-and-policies/>) from the Office of Financial Aid.

Academic Scholarships

A variety of academic scholarships are awarded at the time of entry and are renewable. The value of most academic scholarships ranges from $18,000-$32,000 per year. Consideration for all scholarships is given to students based on their admission application. No additional forms are required for consideration. Visit Quinnipiac’s Scholarships webpage (<https://www.qu.edu/tuition-financial-aid/scholarships.html>) for current academic scholarship award information as well as the criteria for renewal.
